Don't Sleep Around this Ski Season

Comox Valley Hotel Launches a Frequent Skier Program

November 29, 2011 – Courtenay, BC – This ski season the Old House Village Hotel & Spa is giving skiers a reason not to sleep around with its frequent skier program. Designed to appeal to skiers who have purchased a Mount Washington season pass or 6IXPAK, the hotel will give its guests a free night stay after three separate stays.

“Instead of making their last run, a run home, we want to encourage skiers and boarders to enjoy more vertical time and then to relax in our hot tubs, or in front of a fire in their hotel suite,” said Kerry Pearce, General Manager of the Old House Village Hotel & Spa.

Guests can also take advantage of 15% off spa treatments at the OhSpa, A heated outdoor pool, free underground heated parking, and the hotel's ski storage and tuning area. For guests who want to forgo driving up the mountain a ski shuttle is available nearby.

Room only rates at the Old House Village Hotel start at $69* per person, based on double occupancy. The hotel is also offering accommodation and lift ticket packages starting at $129*per person, based on double occupancy (*excluding tax).
